Louis Stix & Co., Cincinnati, have a card in this issue of THE HERALD, and all merchants would do well to get their prices before sending their orders elsewhere.

The declamatory contest held at the academy chapel last Friday evening for the purpose of selecting a man to represent the Hazel Green academy in the Blue Grass Declamatory league, was one of the most formidable in the history of the school and resulted in a victory for H. Clay Lacy, of Lacy Creek. The second award was not made, being divided between S. M. Nickell, of Index, and

Who Is Your Friend?

When this question goes around the Business Circle the answer comes back, "The one who can give the best values for the least money. Having been in the market at a season when the jobbers were cleaning up, I have been able to purchase some rare bargains, which shall be the gain of my customers. Give me your ears while I quote you prices:

Ladies Cloaks..... 75 and up. Men's Heavy Overcoats..... $2.00 and up.
Ladies' Fine Shoes..... .90 " Ladies' Fine Shoes..... 1.00 "
Ladies' Coarse Shoes..... 2.00 " Men's Fine Shoes..... 1.00 "
Men's Heavy Kip Boots..... 2.00 " A good Calico at only 5 cents per yard.

ELEPHANTINE LIFE.

Steps to Be Taken to Prevent Its Wanton Destruction.

One of the pressing questions of the day in Africa relates to the preservation of the elephant, which will become extinct there at no distant date unless means are taken to stop the indiscriminate slaughter now going on. There has been a prevalent notion that the African elephant is inferior to his Indian cousin in intelligence and docility, but it does not seem to be founded on solid observation. It is now pointed out that the Romans and Carthaginians used the African beast to good purpose, and Mr. P. L. Selater, of the London Zoological society, declares that they have had African elephants in their gardens for more than twenty years and have found them quite as intelligent as those of the Asiatic species, although perhaps not quite as docile. A young male African now about fourteen years of age is daily engaged during the summer months in carrying the children and other visitors about the garden and there has never been an accident with him. Mr. Selater expresses the opinion that the African elephant should be preserved as the proper beast of burden to open up the trade routes in the interior of the African continent, and suggests that a kheddah of Indian elephants and their attendants be transported to the east African coast and that the Indian elephants be set to work to capture and tame their African brethren. It is noted, moreover, that Gen. Gordon, just before the fall of Khartoum, wrote a letter in which he strongly advocated the domestication and use of the African elephant.

Her Higher Education.

Cousin Hugh—Whereaway so early, and in such a hurry, this breezy morning?

Miss Brainie (fresh from medical studies at Vassar)—Don't detain me. I'm going right over to help my old friend, Mrs. Welles.

"Anything wrong?"

"Wrong? I should say! Yesterday she said she was going to wire her husband. And I didn't even know he was dead. He'll make a lovely skeleton, and I can show her just how he should be wired."—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

Prophesies as to transportation.

Laura—If papa gives his consent, George, dear, when you go to ask him, won't you be fairly transported with joy?

George (somewhat apprehensive)—Yes, Laura, and if it shouldn't happen to strike him favorably and he's feeling right well I shouldn't wonder if I'd be considerably moved anyhow.—Chicago Tribune.

ENEMIES THREE

There are with which the weak person generally has to contend.

WORK regularly consumes his strength, but often pays for what it takes.

WORRY lights the candle at the other end, and never pays at all.

DISEASE ties his hands and deprives him of power of resistance.

Who can number the thousands

The attention of all the readers of THE HERALD is called to the liberal offer made by the Racket Store, Lexington. Mr. J. D. Purcell wishes to find out how many people read THE HERALD, besides giving the greatest bargains to all his customers. Remember the place, 11, 13 and 15 West Main street, Lexington, when you want bargains in dry goods, etc.

Rev. F. M. Tinder, of Mayslick, will be here on May 8, and will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church on the following night. Let every person have the opportunity to hear him throughout the meeting, and all will surely be benefitted. He preaches the gospel in its purity and simplicity. All who heard him when here last year speak in glowing terms of him, and we believe he will meet with a warm and hearty welcome at his return.

Mrs. Lou Day requests us to say to the ladies of Hazel Green and the surrounding country that she has just opened a full and complete line of millinery, dry goods, notions, ladies' dress goods, etc., which she will sell at the lowest price for cash or produce—butter, lard, chickens, eggs, or anything she can use for the table. She has a nice line of trimmed and untrimmed hats, for spring and summer, which will be added to from time to time, so that the very latest styles can be found here. She also has a fine line of toilet articles.

J. Sylvester O'Hair, of Swango, Ill., is visiting friends and relatives in this section. Uncle Sylvester went west from here twenty-seven years ago, and this is the first visit he has made since his departure. He seems greatly impressed with the many improvements and changes that have taken place in Eastern Kentucky, and says it is the first place he ever saw a man trying to ride to Heaven on horseback, which scene he witnessed while on his way here. He lost sight of the rider in the clouds, and don't no whether he made the trip or not. Unlike the rest of his folks, he is a Democrat from way back.

"Nine months after having the typhoid fever, my head was perfectly bald. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and before I had used half a bottle, the hair began to grow. Two more bottles brought out as good a head of hair as ever I had. On my recommendation, my Brother William Craig made use of Ayer's Hair Vigor with the same good results."—Stephen Craig, 832 Charlotte st., Philadelphia, Pa.
